ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The COVID-19 pandemic has highlighted the tension between the benefits of internationally co-ordinated responses to global issues, and States' unwillingness to concede their sovereign right to act – or not act – as they see fit. However, the difficulty posed by conflicting international and domestic concerns is by no means novel, nor limited to public health. The major issues of global import – from environmental threats to impediments on trade, the forced migration of refugees to nuclear weapons and intervention in armed conflicts – naturally entail interactions between States, as global interconnectedness draws domestic concerns into regional and international spheres. Yet, the legal mechanisms facilitating co-operation – from international organisations to bilateral agreements – are stymied by States' reticence to participate. While national sovereignty is paramount, how can true international co-operation be achieved?

PARTNERS

The Cambridge International Law Conference is delighted to announce its partnership with Edward Elgar Publishing, and the Lauterpacht Centre for International Law.

Edward Elgar Publishing is the publisher of CILJ, and is delighted to offer conference delegates a special conference discount of 35% off all hardbacks and paperbacks purchased through its website, by adding discount code MAR35 before checkout.¹ For recent works on public international law, please follow this link.

The Lauterpacht Centre for International Law is a specialist centre within the University of Cambridge's Faculty of Law. It provides a forum for the discussion and development of international law, hosting a number of research projects, lectures, and events. Please join its mailing list to receive updates on news and upcoming events.

¹ The discount cannot be combined with any other offer, and delivery costs are additional.

REGISTRATION PROCESS

The Conference will be held using the Zoom Webinar platform. Due to the platform's limitations, you must register in advance for ALL sessions you are interested in attending by following the relevant registration links, available in both the 'Overview' and 'Full Programme' sections below. Please note that the number of places for each session is limited.

Clicking on the link will take you to the registration page for the relevant panel. On this page:

1. fill in your name, email address where you would like to receive the link, and organisation;
2. optionally, provide your job title;
3. optionally, select whether you experience any difficulties with your hearing, and whether you have any other special need relevant to your engagement with the Conference. The information provided here will assist us in improving the Conference's accessibility.

After clicking 'Submit', you will receive an email from Zoom, containing the link to join the given session. If you no longer wish to attend a session, please cancel your registration by following the 'Cancel' link in the same email.

Once you have registered for one session, your details should automatically appear on the registration form when signing up for additional sessions.
